

Current Matchplay Results

GOTT,

Our matchplay tournament is shaping up to be the most competitive on record. There have been many surprises along the way and some very lopsided outcomes. Dare I say that a few of the boys have looked as hapless as the French World Cup squad that went home in disgrace today. What could undermine the fun the rest of the way is the lack of matches being played by certain members. With more members advancing to the knock out this year we need to wrap up the round robin by the close of July... That leaves us 6 weeks. Please make some appointment golf happen gentlemen...

Ok on to the results of note. First let me say that we have seen 27 of the 45 matches we need to get in played so far. Surprisingly only 5 matches have gone to 18 so far, as many of the victors have been wrapping things up early. Kudo's to the members of the Hello Jerry Bracket who have played 10 of their 15 contests already. As a result it is the only bracket where we have someone who has already clinched a spot in the knockout round. Tony C who has completed his match play with a 4-1 record has advanced with Trooper D very close to doing same. Both men have played very well in their matches, but Trooper D is just whitewashing everyone right now with his low stroke play. His closest match was a 5 and 4 affair with Newman. However, with his handicap catching up with his play he's still got a ways to go.

The only other man to see similar success so far is Pee-teh who is also 3 and 0 in match play giving him a strangle hold on the Treasury bracket. However with just 5 matches played he has a lot of golf to watch (and play) before it is all over there. Pee-tah is also the only defending semi-finalist to have good success so far in the campaign. Defending Champion DiCo has been up and down going 1-1-1 in his first three matches needing to play well from here on out to advance out of a tough bracket. Last year's other finalist has fared even worse as The Skipper is in the basement of his bracket after getting off to a terrible 0-2 start. The good news for Skip is that he has 3 matches left and few have been played in his group to date. The last semi-finalist from last year, Newman, would seem to be up against it in the Hello Jerry Bracket. It would seem at this point that the last spot in that bracket is going to come down to an all out war between Newman, CFD, The Sheriff and Eddie who is down but not out after a horrible showing in his matches at Stoudt's.

Remember all, this year advancing to the knockout is a little different. We will take the top 3 from each bracket on to the knockout round. The winners of each bracket will get a bye into the quarters as a reward for winning a 6 man group. The seconds and thirds will play what is essentially a play in match. As you will see in the second tab of the attached the brackets are already done. All we need to do now is start filling in the names once we know who finishes 1-2-3 in each group.

C'mon boys, lets get our match play on and make this the best major championship of 2010.

See you at the Classic this Sunday at the Make...
