

Week 2-The opening Classic of 2010

---

Gentlemen of the Tour,

With week number 2 under our belts the season is not even close to taking shape yet. Some of our biggest names have barely hit the course yet. Others are starting the enviable pattern of perfect attendance. Perhaps the best sign yet however is that over 10 guys are scheduled to hit a new tour course on Thursday and Friday in an otherwise non-descript week in April. Could consistent turnouts close to 20 guys become the norm. Why the hell not.

Now our first classic was played in much the same conditions as they were a year ago. Some pretty big wind gusts were out there on an otherwise gorgeous day. The course was in solid shape after being battered this past winter and the greens were rolling true, despite the lack of grass in some spots. With 8 big points out there a winner gets off to a very big start in the chase for the OOM crown. That season opening winner was none other than Johnny. One of my favorite Met fans left the course murmuring about what might have been. You see he was disappointed about not having broken 90 (or perhaps it was that one hole where he hit driver and Bruce out drove him with a 7-iron - not sure). Truth be told Johnny had nothing to be upset about as he won this event by a wide margin shooting a 91 net 65 and taking the next competitor by 6 strokes.

That second place finisher was Matt D. Since dad decided to head to the Masters instead of joining us on Saturday Matt decided he would represent and shot a 95 net 71 for his second straight podium. The finish gave him 6 points and puts him in the early OOM lead with Johnny.

Matt was not alone in second place however. He was joined by our resident webmaster TrooperD who made his season debut with a rousing 99 net 71. A big 6 points later and Troop finds himself in 3rd place in the order, just 2 points off the pace.

Hard luck 4th was anything but this week as Pee-tah shot just over net par, but worth noting none the less.

This week's WTF happened awards go to The Sheriff who went net 90 (Oh those 120's) and The Skipper who went net 87. A far cry from the match play finals last year Bobby... Find that game... and soon.

Good luck to all in week 3 as the tour makes a brief stop in Langhorne, PA.

S of H and S

---

Mercer Oaks West

Name	Course Handicap	Gross	Net	OOM Points
Little Buddy	26	91	65	8
Matt D	24	95	71	6
Trooper D	28	99	71	6
Pee-tah	29	102	73	2
Paul M	37	114	77	2
Carlos	13	91	78	2
Link-me	17	96	79	2
DiCo	18	97	79	2

---

Week ending April 11, 2010

Week 2-The opening Classic of 2010

---

Eddie	17	102	85	2
Crano	33	118	85	2
Garty	22	108	86	2
Skipper	27	114	87	2
The Sheriff	32	122	90	2
Tony	19	Off Course		1
The Faucet	17	Off Course		1
Brucie (A)	6	77	71	0
Ed L (A)	33	113	80	0
Scott L (A)	40	126	86	0

---

Current OOM Standings:

Position	Name	Handicap	Points
1	Little Buddy	24	8
1	Matt D	22	8
3	Trooper D	26	6
3	Pee-tah	26	6
5	DiCo	16	5
6	Linke	16	4
7	Paul M	34	3
7	Crano	30	3
7	Garty	20	3
7	Carlos	12	3
11	Sherriff	30	2
11	Skipper	25	2
11	The Faucet	16	2
11	Eddie	15	2
15	David McC	36	1
15	XL Presidente	19	1
15	Tony	17	1
15	Chris D	15	1
15	Mullet	14	1
15	Tim-e-way	6	1
	Scott L (A)	36	0
	Ed L (A)	30	0
	Newman	28	0
	Rich McD	25	0
	Lance	23	0
	Commissioner	16	0
	Amish Boy	16	0
	Scottie	14	0